

Practice Enhancement Tool resource list available on website

As you know, the College's Practice Enhancement Tool has been up and running since January. The College continues to randomly select members to complete PET, and we have received some positive feedback from those of you who have already completed the assessment. Some of that feedback is in the mailbag feature of this issue of Dispatch on page 36.

For those of you who have yet to be selected or are in the process of completing the assessment, the College has put together a list of resources that you may find helpful. There is no single source of information to help you complete PET, but the list of resources compiled by the Quality Assurance department has links to information on the competencies currently covered by PET. As new competency areas are incorporated into PET, the resource list will be updated with new information to help members through the assessment.

Navigation – Navigate the tabs like you would on a website, click to open and reveal relevant information.

Interactive Link Icons – The blue arrows indicate an interactive link, click to open the link in your web browser.

The current resource list is available on the College website at www.rcdso.org in the Knowledge Centre/Quality Assurance Program section. You can also download it from the quick links available on the 'Members' section on the website homepage.

You are free to review the resources we have put together for PET before, during or after completing your assessment. Remember, as you complete your assessment you can pause during a session, log out and research a particular subject area before proceeding or use a built-in feature of PET that allows you to flag questions that you would like to review before answering.
